City Board Awards Contract To Local Excavating Firm

A local excavating firm was awarded contracts last night by the Circleville Board of Education for street and utility work and the extension of Clark Drive at the site of the new high school.

Wolf and West Inc., with offices at 551 Springhollow Road, was awarded the contracts at a net cost of $27,582.50. Bids were opened yesterday noon.

Two bids for both street and utilities were received in addition to one for street work only. Superintendent Fritz Jacobs noted that Better Homes, Inc., Chillicothe, will pay approximately one-half of the street and utility costs for its proposed subdivision in the area.

Jacobs announced that a bid letting session will be held in January for construction of the new high school and for a three or four room addition at the Atwater Building.

CONSIDERABLE consideration was given to comments regarding safety in school areas and the community by the board.

PTA groups and individuals have made several suggestions concerning the safety of school children and motor vehicle traffic. The board indicated that all suggestions and comments would be analyzed before recommendations could be made.

However, the school board feels that traffic problems and safety of children in school areas, as well as other areas, is "primarily a problem of enforcement."

A suggestion, being investigated by the board with a probability of recommendation, is the erection of blinking type signals in urban school areas.

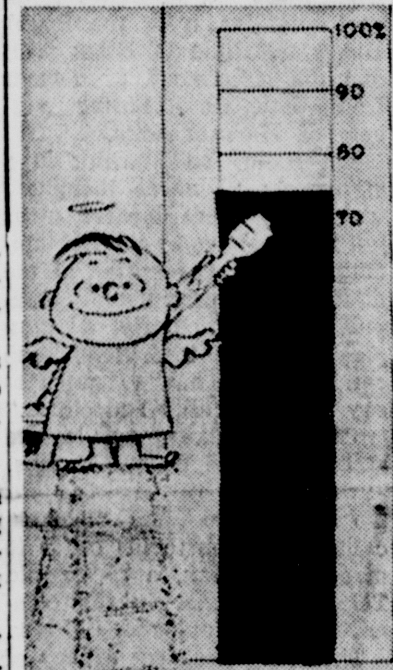

Nicholas Drive PTA was granted the board's approval to show feature-length movies

Board sanction was also granted for Jacobs to continue an investigation into the feasibility of participating in a radio-telephone workshop in association with Ohio State University's WOSU radio.

JACOBS said 12 schools have been invited to participate in the program whereby students would listen to a program via WOSU-FM. Questions could be asked through an intercom system provided by the telephone company.

A discussion on the possibility of offering a required course in economics for both elementary and high school students was tabled for further study. Time did not permit a thorough discussion. However, the board indicated it is hoped that economics courses can be incorporated into both levels of education.

Taft Opposes Baring Finances

CLEVELAND (AP) — Would requiring members of Congress to disclose publicly their income and assets and liabilities or debt be a good thing?

Rep. Robert Taft Jr. says he doesn't think so.

The Republican candidate for Senate against incumbent Democrat Stephen M. Young gave his opinion on the matter in a statement Tuesday night in answer to a demand voiced by Young here Monday night that Taft make public disclosure of his 1963 income tax return and his law business.

Taft said he favors disclosure of financial affairs of a member of Congress be made "in confidence to an ethics committee of the House or Senate."

Coroner Rules Girl Used Auto in Suicide

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Coroner David A. Belinky of Mahoning County ruled Tuesday that Shirley Ann Premontine, 16, of McDonald committed suicide Sunday night when a car she was driving crashed into a bridge abutment on the McDonald-Ohltown Road. Dr. Belinky said the girl had been despondent and earlier Sunday had told two boys she would be killed by the crash of her car into the bridge.

He described one rifle with telescopic sight as "capable of drilling a nail at 1,000 yards."

Plot Reported To Slay LBJ; 2 Texans Held

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — Officers quizzed today an ex-convict plumber, at whose home they seized guns and Nazi flags, about a reported plot to kill President Johnson here Sunday.

Sheriff's deputies arrested Julius Schmidt, 29, at his Corpus Christi home Tuesday night and took Jerry Bird, 27, of Callallen, Tex., into custody here several hours later.

They said both men would be charged with violating the National Firearms Act.

Word from informers about guns being collected in this city on the lower Texas coast prompted simultaneous raids on the home of Schmidt and that of his mother, Nueces County Sheriff Johnnie Mitchell said.

Informers reported there was "a lot of loose talk about assassinating the President" and quoted unnamed individuals as saying they would try to obtain guns from Schmidt, Mitchell said.

After questioning Schmidt for more than three hours, the sheriff said he at first doubted there was a plot on the life of President Johnson.

"Now that we have looked into it," Mitchell said, "there might be something to it. However, a plot has not yet been uncovered."

"I plan to arrest two more people."

The sheriff said Schmidt admitted buying machine guns and automatic weapons illegally but denied any knowledge of an assassination plot.

Mitchell said 25 deputies gathered up machine guns, automatic pistols, high-powered rifles, a knee mortar, a rocket launcher, live hand grenades, about 20,000 rounds of commercial and homemade ammunition, swords, several Nazi flags, World War I and II German helmets, a German medal and army uniform, photographs of World War II Nazi leaders and books by Adolf Hitler.

Some of the guns were at the home of Schmidt's mother because he lived there with his wife and small son until last August, the sheriff said.

He described one rifle with telescopic sight as "capable of drilling a nail at 1,000 yards."

Truman was pronounced in satisfactory condition.

Robert E. Adams, executive director of the hospital, said Truman was alert, cheerful, fully conscious and joking. Adams said the eye wasn't a full-blown shiner but showed a lot of discoloration.

The hospital posted him as "satisfactory, resting easily" through the night.

Dr. Graham said there was nothing to indicate Truman had a fainting or dizzy spell.

"He's all right, there's nothing serious about it at all," Mrs. Truman said in a telephone conversation with her daughter, Mrs. Clifton Daniel, in New York.

The former president did not disclose the purpose of the news conference he had called for today, but its timing coincided with Sen. Barry Goldwater's appearance in Kansas City.

Truman was 80 on May 8 and his activities have been at a minimum since that round of celebrating. He was an elected delegate to the Democratic National Convention in August but did not go. An illness kept him from the dedication of the George C. Marshall Memorial Library at Lexington, Va., in May. But he appeared at a Kansas City rally with Sen. Hubert Humphrey late in September.

Rightist Winner Of Peace Prize

Labor Favored In British Poll

LONDON (AP) — With Britain's general election only one day away, both major parties claimed today the trend is going their way.

The Laborites still were heavy betting favorites despite a wildcat subway strike in London that raised the public's temper.

"Of course we shall win, if we get out our full vote," Labor party leader Harold Wilson said in Liverpool. "All the signs are that there will be a big vote and a big swing to Labor."

"It looks like going more to the left," said Peter Hyett, director of the National Opinion Poll which earlier reported the Laborites and Conservatives neck and neck.

The hard-pressed Conservatives claimed that their blitz speaking campaign by more than 20 members of the government was paying off. "Things have swung our way," said Foreign Secretary Richard A. Butler.

Conservative hopes were boosted by the subway strike. It is an axiom of British politics that strikes mean trouble for the Labor party, which gets its main financial support from the unions.

Wilson denounced as "intolerable" the strike staged by a minority of railmen in defiance of their union leaders. The strikers are protesting schedule cuts caused by a shortage of guard. They claim the London Transport Board could attract more workers by raising the wage scale.

Prime Minister Douglas-Home, fighting his first campaign as the Conservative party's leader, wound up his television campaign Tuesday night.

He called on Britain's 35 million voters to renew the Conservative mandate because his government has kept living standards rising and it intends to keep Britain's nuclear armory intact.

Wilson holds his final rally in Liverpool tonight. His campaign theme has been that Britain is falling behind in living standards and that the British nuclear deterrent is obsolete, expensive and an encouragement to other nations to develop their own nuclear weapons.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Isbell smashed into Key West today after leaving a trail of death and destruction across western Cuba.

The savage storm struck a glancing but powerful blow at the Florida Keys, toppling trees, powerlines and signs in Key West, southernmost city in the continental United States.

Behind it in Cuba, Isbell left thousands homeless, vast areas flooded, homes and buildings destroyed, possibly four persons dead and the Communist nation's rich and important tobacco crop in ruins.

Isbell roared between Key West and the Dry Tortugas. Its winds of more than 100 miles an hour passed about 30 miles west of Key West and the storm was headed northeast.

Gathering constantly greater strength from warm Gulf waters, Isbell was expected to crash into the southwest Florida Gulf Coast tonight and sweep across the Everglades to the Atlantic side.

San Juany Martinez, Cuba, site of the main plantations which produce Cuba's famous tobacco, was heavily damaged.

It was the second straight year that Fidel Castro's faltering economy had been staggered by tropical storms. Last year, Hurricane Flora stalled over the island for four terrible days, destroying whole towns, villages and crops.

Earlier this year, Hurricanes Hilda and Cleo had dealt heavy blows to sugar, tobacco and other crops and to the island's livestock.

Sustained winds of 80 miles an hour, and gusts up to 100, raged around the eye.

Planes at the Key West Navy base were flown out of the storm's path and ships left port to ride out the blow at sea.

The dead were listed as 15-months old Alicia; Lisa 3; Rhonda, 6, and Timmy, 2.

Firemen said the children all were asleep upstairs and that Turner managed to save Paul, 4; Thomas Jr., 5 and Cheryl, 7.

He then jumped to safety.

Turner suffered burns on his arms and legs and possible back injuries. The three children he saved apparently were not seriously burned.

Turner is employed as a farmhand and as a construction worker at the Clinton County Air Force Base near Wilmington.

The three injured children were released from the hospital within a few hours after the fire but the father remained for further treatment.

WASHINGTON (AP) — As usual the 100 senators did more talking, spent more time, and produced less legislation than the 435 representatives in the recently ended congressional session.

Of the 382 public laws enacted this year, 278 originated in the House and only 104 in the Senate. On private bills, 147 were House measures while 38 began in the Senate.

negro cleric's efforts hailed

OSLO, Norway (AP) — The 1964 Nobel Peace Prize was awarded today to Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., Georgia-born Negro who became a civil rights crusader in the United States.

"Martin Luther King has consistently asserted the principle of nonviolence," the Oslo Nobel Institute said in its statement announcing the award.

King, son of an Atlanta Baptist minister and himself an ordained minister, provided his fellow Negroes with a powerful new weapon molded and shaped from the teachings of India's Mahatma Gandhi in the fight for Negro civil rights.

King's award, rumored for months, will amount to 273,000 Swedish kroner — $5,123 — this year. The cash prize and the Nobel gold medal and diploma will be handed to King at ceremonies in Oslo Dec. 10.

King was born in Atlanta, Ga. in 1929 and went to the Crozer Theological Seminary, Chester, Pa. He took his doctor's degree in theology at Boston University and served later as a Baptist minister.

In 1955 he was chosen to lead the Negro boycott of the Montgomery, Ala., city buses. Since then he has served as a leader in the Negro fight for civil rights, as president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

4 Children
Die as Fire
Sweeps Home

HILLSBORO, Ohio (AP) — Four children, ranging in age from 15 months to six years, died today in a fire which destroyed their two-story frame home in the all-Negro Gest community near New Vienna in northwest Highland County.

Their father, Tom Turner, 38, managed to rescue three other children by throwing them out an upstairs window. Turner and the rescued children were injured and burned and brought here to a hospital.

The mother, Mrs. Mary Jane Turner, apparently was outside when the fire started.

Firemen said they believed Turner was attempting to start a fire in a heating stove and may have picked up a can of gasoline by mistake, thinking it was kerosene, and threw it on the coals.

The dead were listed as 15-months old Alicia; Lisa 3; Rhonda, 6, and Timmy, 2.

Firemen said the children all were asleep upstairs and that Turner managed to save Paul, 4; Thomas Jr., 5 and Cheryl, 7.

Johnson Says GOP Now in 'Receivership'

President Believes
New Party Chiefs
'Veto the Future'

PARAMUS, N. J. (AP) — President Johnson told a cheering crowd today that the Republican party "is now in temporary receivership" and has fallen in the hands of "men who want to repeal the present and veto the future."

Johnson opened a two-day campaign swing with a speech at the Bergen Mall shopping center before a crowd estimated by a state police official at 30,000.

Without mentioning his Republican opponent, Sen. Barry Goldwater by name, Johnson belabored him with vigor as he launched the campaign swing into New Jersey, Pennsylvania and New York.

His speech was delivered in the state's Republican stronghold.

In the speech, Johnson said the American people are "weary of those who preach that America is failing in the world and at home."

"The people are tired of being told that their character is in question, their moral fiber riddled with 'rot and decay.'"

"The American people want leadership which respects them — not leadership which berates them."

"Above all else, I believe the American people know that we need not — and we cannot — live as a nation torn apart by factions."

"Good Republicans and good Democrats are good Americans first and last."

Nobel Award

(Continued from Page 1) Year" by Time magazine in 1963 and this year was made an honorary doctor at Yale University and was awarded the John F. Kennedy Prize by the Catholic Council for Cooperation Between the Races in Chicago.

He was the 12th American to be awarded the peace prize. In addition, the American Friends Service Committee got it once.

The prize was awarded by the Nobel Committee of the Norwegian Storting (Parliament).

Chairman of the committee is director Gunnar Jahn. Vice chairman is Dean G. Natvig-Pedersen.

The Swedish inventor of dynamite, Dr. Alfred Nobel stated in his will in 1895 that his fortune should go to the establishment of prizes to be awarded in chemistry, physics, medicine and physiology, literature and for peace.

The peace prize is awarded by the Norwegian Parliament. The other four prizes are awarded in Sweden.

King — the third Negro to be awarded the peace prize—will receive the award in a ceremony in the University of Oslo on Dec. 10, on the anniversary of Nobel's death.

Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, U.N. undersecretary for special political affairs, won the coveted prize in 1950. South African leader Albert Luthuli won the prize in 1960.

The Nobel committee never announces who else has been proposed for the prize. Neither does it, at the time of announcing the award, give the full reasons for the choice. That will be done in December.

Nobel decided that the peace prize should be awarded to "the one, who has worked most or best for furthering the brotherhood between peoples and for abolishment or reduction of the standing armies, and for establishment and furtherance of peace congresses."

(Continued from Page 1) would be meeting Thursday with local interested business and industrial representatives, in addition to representatives of the high school's commercial department. Purpose of the meeting, according to Jacobs, will be to co-ordinate the needs of business and industry with commercial offerings in the high school curriculum.

Also, the superintendent said, an upcoming meeting with William Wolfe, of the State Department of Transportation, will be an initial step in preparing for re-routing of bus schedules after the new schools are ready for occupancy. Revamping of schedules will have to be worked out well in advance, Jacobs said.

In other action, the school board scheduled the dates for the 1965 baccalaureate and commencement. They will be May 23 and May 28, respectively.

It was noted that the November school board meeting will be held on Nov. 9, instead of the regular second Tuesday meeting due to the Ohio School Boards Assn. session on Nov. 10.

A request by Columbia Gas of Ohio, Inc., to place an additional gas line in the Jefferson Subdivision was approved yesterday by the Board of County Commissioners.

The line will be placed along the western side of Puthuff St. It will extend 800 feet southward from Monticello St.

Columbia Gas has already lines along several other streets in the subdivision.

Other business included routine payment of bills and transfers of money. Dog license fees were discussed, but no action was taken.

The trio pleaded innocent to the charges Tuesday and were bound over to Municipal Court for a preliminary hearing set for next week. They were arrested Sunday in connection with the theft of $1,000 worth of narcotics in a drugstore break-in.

Barry Rips LBJ, Labels Democrat Party 'Fascist'

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater charged today President Johnson has forced a new delay of a Senate investigation "because Bobby Baker's affairs lead right straight into the White House itself."

Johnson Says

(Continued from Page 1) both parties are determined to put their country first. They intend to vote to preserve the traditions of our country."

Following his speech here, Johnson moved into Pennsylvania for a speech at a Democratic rally at the Wilkes-Barre-Scranton Airport.

After the talk in Wilkes-Barre, Johnson heads for New York where he will attend a dinner tonight honoring the memory of Alfred E. Smith.

Johnson will fly back to the White House Thursday night, but will hit the campaign trail again Friday when he goes to Ohio for speeches in Cincinnati and Dayton. After that, he heads for his home state of Texas for a series of speeches.

Except for Ohio, the five states Johnson will visit this week went Democratic in 1960. The President spent Tuesday at the White House after returning early in the morning from a 10,000-mile Western campaign trip.

Armco Chief Seeks Steel Price Boost

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)—Armco Steel President Logan T. Johnston said Tuesday that profit isn't high enough on some steel products and prices should be increased.

"We have quite a few steel products where the margin of profit isn't as good as it should be," Johnson said.

He said the price increase is needed on some grades of plate, sheet and bar products. "Over 50 per cent of our products could stand a price increase," he added.

President Lyndon Johnson commented on Aug. 8 that a steel price increase would be a matter of "very serious concern." The Armco president said, however, that he has not conferred with anyone on a possible price hike.

Johnston held the news conference after announcing in a Rotary Club speech the details of the $650 million expansion program planned by Armco.

Armco will spend $250 million on improvements at Middletown. This will include a new hot strip mill, a heavy slab continuous casting machine, a program of smoke control and improvements on other facilities.

The remainder of the expansion program will be Armco plants in Ashland, Ky., Houston, Tex., and Butler, Pa.

Ohioan Seeks To Identify Girl's Body

STUTTGART, Germany (AP) —The mother of a missing American girl was en route to nearby Karlsruhe today to view the clothing and personal effects taken from the badly decomposed body of an unidentified woman.

Ann Marie Peterson, 22, a student from Cleveland Heights, Ohio, has been missing since Aug. 25 when she told friends in Munich that she planned to hitchhike to Paris.

Her mother, Mrs. Marie G. Peterson, arrived in Paris Monday to investigate the disappearance. U. S. Embassy officials in Paris said Mrs. Peterson left for Karlsruhe after the embassy was informed of the discovery of the body.

A spokesman for the U. S. consulate in Stuttgart said police discovered the body on the outskirts of Karlsruhe several weeks ago.

Munich police announced a nationwide search was under way for Miss Peterson.

A police spokesman in Karlsruhe said the unidentified body was found by German Army soldiers on Sept. 24 in a small forest adjoining the highway between Karlsruhe and Pforzheim. The soldiers were on maneuvers.

Mrs. Peterson reported that she last heard from Ann Marie in a letter from Munich dated Aug. 25. The girl indicated then she planned the hitchhiking trip. She was a student at the Rhode Island School of Design at Providence when she left for Rome with a group of the school's honor students Sept. 10, 1963.

GOP Calls Dem Charges Of Payoff 'Nonsensical'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic charges that the Republicans paid a Democratic party employee $1,000 for supposedly confidential information have been labeled "a nonsensical story" by GOP National Chairman Dean Burch.

Burch called the story, unfolded at Democratic National Committee headquarters Tuesday, an attempt by Democratic Chairman John M. Bailey to divert attention from the Bobby Baker and Billie Sol Estes cases and the indictment of former Democratic Gov. Foster Furcolo of Massachusetts.

But Bailey said earlier in a statement: "I never thought I would see these bizarre ideas put into practice by the Republican National Committee in the midst of a presidential campaign — particularly a campaign where the Republican candidate has had so much to say about morality and ethics."

The payoff charge was leveled at the office of Wayne Phillips, assistant publicity director for the Democratic Committee. He called newsmen to his office to meet Louis Flax, a 39-year-old Teletype operator in the committee's communications center.

Then he passed out a copy of an affidavit signed by Flax and dated Oct. 12.

The gist of Flax' affidavit: He was contacted on Sept. 28 by an unidentified caller who hinted he would be paid for turning over information on Democratic campaign plans; then he was threatened, presumably with the fact that he had a prison record which he hadn't told the Democratic party about; he met with two high ranking Republican officials, one of them executive director John Grenier.

On Oct. 1, Flax told Phillips about the contacts and a promise he had received for pay-offs. Phillips told him to string along, supplied him with some edited information and, on Oct. 2 he turned it over to Grenier. A few minutes later, he was given $1,000 in cash by an intermediary, money which he immediately banked.

From that point until Tuesday, Phillips said, carefully screened information was mailed daily to Grenier. Tuesday, he said, Flax was to make another personal delivery to Grenier, including a spurious "confidential" memo outlining President Johnson's campaign appearance plans for the next three weeks.

Flax said he planned to ask for another pay-off. He left with a yellow envelope filled with copies of messages gleaned from the Teletype wires linking national and state Democratic headquarters.

A half hour later newsmen met Flax on the street near GOP headquarters. He said he had given the envelope to Grenier but was told "when you get something hot we'll come up with some more money."

Minutes later newsmen were ushered into Grenier's office. He was seen putting Teletype copy into a yellow envelope on his desk. After reading a copy of the Flax affidavit, and being

President De Gaulle's current trip to Latin America is noteworthy for a number of reasons, not the least of which are the physical demands which are being made upon the general. For a man who will be 74 in November and underwent a serious operation a few months ago, the 22,000 mile, 10-country tour should be exhausting.

Even if De Gaulle escapes the personal hazards, the excursion into South America continues to be filled with pitfalls. He went almost empty handed into a region which is intrigued by European ties and aid.

France gives a higher percentage of her resources away in the form of foreign aid than any other nation. Dissolution of her former empire in the years since World War II has cost her enormously. Her reserve for new foreign financial commitments is almost depleted.

Some French observers have felt that De Gaulle could overcome the disappointment created through a lack of material offers to the Latins by propising new links in cultural and technical assistance.

Material or engineering improvements such as highways, dams or school buildings give local economies a temporary shot in the arm, but little economic benefit of lasting consequence.

Technicians who impart valuable skills to an illiterate and unskilled population, businessmen who can lead the way to new trade routes, managers to organize working and administrative groups into productive units, and educators to lay the foundation for at least elementary education — these are the aid tools needed most urgently by Latin America.

Surprisingly, technical missions like these are among the least costly aid gifts in proportion to cumulative value received. France just might strike pay dirt in its bargain-basement cultivation of the Latin countries.

American aid officials frequently have been criticized for alleged "dollar diplomacy." Paris may be about to test the theory that the gift of know-how is much more valuable than its weight in gold.

How People Stand Up

What most men and women are up against emotionally was revealed in an analysis of letters to the editor of a syndicated column on effective living. Fear, loneliness, boredom and a feeling of inferiority were problems most often mentioned.

Fear comes first, the analysis shows. Fear of life rather than death. Fear of the unknown. Consciously or unconsciously, fear grips most hearts, day and night.

Loneliness came next in emotional problems. It is far greater in the crowded centers of population than in rural areas. The impersonality of crowds wherein there is no familiar face is hard to take.

Then comes boredom — the terrible sameness of things both at home and on the job. Accentuating this is the realization that one will never have the experience of the brilliant and adventurous people he reads or hears about.

Finally, the sense of inferiority and of inadequacy built into men and women during childhood by thoughtless or ignorant parents and teachers. Here is the mental fixation of people who have been terrorized, and who belittle themselves.

If these are the true botherations of most people, then it must be said that the ordinary man and woman deserves high tribute for courage.

For, obviously, most people stand up to these ills of the spirit amazingly well. They go on their several ways in spite of fears, of loneliness, of boredom and of the sense of insignificance, and live above them.

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP) — Both consumers and businessmen are still playing it cool. All the talk about an expanding economy in the foreseeable future has yet to set off any buying spree by shoppers or much betting by businessmen that a boom is in the making.

On the contrary, the latest figures show retail sales dipped a bit in September from their August peak. Business inventories have held steady for three months, indicating that businessmen are looking for few changes soon in sales volume.

The economy still has problems on another front, its trade and other financial dealings with other lands.

Imports rose to a new high in August, the last month officially reported. Exports slipped a bit measured pace in spending, in stockpiling, in expansion planning than a sudden boom that would threaten inflation and excesses — and a bust.

At the present stage of the business upswing, now almost 44 months old, speculative fever would be regarded by most economists as an indicator that the cycle was about to turn down. The present lull on several fronts may generate little enthusiasm, but it also calms some fears.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

THE OWNER of a bakery shop came home in a depressed mood one evening, explaining to his wife, "Those darn government agents were snooping around the bakery again today." "So what?" shrugged his wife. "What have you to hide?" "Well, for one thing," sighed the baker, "if it develops that we have to put apples in the apple pie, we're RUINED!"

In Kentucky, the young son of a mountaineer was accosted by a "revenuer," and admitted that both his pappy and mammy were up at the still turning out some mighty potent moonshine. "I'll give you a dollar," proposed the officer, "if you'll lead me to that still." "Okay," nodded the boy. "Give it to me now." The officer demurred. "You'll get the dollar when we come back, and not a minute before." "Deal's off," decided the boy. "You ain't comin' back!"

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Is there any danger to the eye when the eyelids do not close in Bell's palsy?

Bell's Palsy is a paralysis of the face due to injury of disease of the facial nerve. It is usually temporary. Most often the coordination of the facial muscles returns to normal when the nerve heals.

Normally the eyelids operate with a very rapid reflex action to protect the eyes from foreign bodies or other irritation. When a paralysis results from Bell's palsy and the eyelids cannot close, the eye is exposed to harm from dirt and drafts. The thin transparent covering of the eye (conjunctiva) becomes less sensitive to particles of dust and dirt that may be deposited on it.

Specially constructed eyeglasses that completely enclose the eye can offer protection without the need for wearing the usual eye patch.

What causes enlargement of the breast in men?

The glandular tissue within the male breast is not unlike that of a female. Sometimes there is an enlargement of the male breast due to some glandular disturbance.

In many instances enlargement of the breast accompanies tremendous overweight. Even after weight loss, the breast may sometimes remain enlarged.

Plastic surgery may be safely and successfully performed on the breast, and can be particularly beneficial in relieving embarrassment about the condition. But first the exact cause of the enlargement must be determined.

What is meant by a hernia of the diaphragm?

This condition is called hiatus hernia. The diaphragm is a flexible wall of muscle which contracts and relaxes as we breathe in and out. It separates the chest from the abdomen.

The esophagus (tube which carries food from the mouth into the stomach) passes through a small opening in the diaphragm called the hiatus. Sometimes, especially in the elderly, this opening, or hiatus, becomes enlarged and troublesome.

Medication and rigid diet are usually effective in relieving the discomfort of this condition. In some instances surgery is necessary and very successful. The symptoms of hiatus hernia may be confused with those of gall bladder disease and stomach ulcers. Accurate diagnosis can readily be made by barium X-ray studies of the esophagus and stomach.

What is meant by the "rice diet" for high blood pressure?

For many years a diet composed mainly of rice was a popular treatment for high blood pressure. This diet was designed to reduce salt, cholesterol and weight.

In the past ten years many excellent drugs have been developed which have been very successful in the treatment of high blood pressure. These drugs have brought such gratifying results that the rigid rice diet is now seldom depended on as the only cure for high blood pressure.

Remarks To Irk a Politician

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks a political candidate gets tired of hearing:

"Remember, Jerry, if you lose this one the only thing left you can run for is — dogcatcher."

"The printer says that if we don't get up the money for our election cards now he'll throw them down the sewer himself."

"One of his troubles is that he gives his speech better when he talks in his sleep than he does when he's awake."

"I think the only votes he's sure of so far are those of people who read billboards aloud with their lips."

"Maybe if we got him to speak in a cemetery we could corral a few ghost votes."

"Now try to get this through your head: At the first stop you munch on Italian salami and some pizza pie. You ask for some bagels when we hit the garment district. And when we pause at Yorkville you say a few kind words about the sauerbraten your mother used to make."

"You don't campaign on issues anymore. You campaign on your stomach. Why should anybody vote for you if you don't eat the same kind of food he does?"

"Why should we let our tiger debate his opponent on television? That would only let the public find out how little either of them know."

"If I deliver you the 3rd precinct, what's in it for me? I'm not one of those college boys who go into politics just to improve their health."

"Before we stop off at the next factory, kid, rub a little grime on your paws. You can't win the workingmen's vote with clean hands."

"Don't waste any more time kissing babies. Kiss the old ladies. If they like it, they won't forget you on election day."

"See that messy little guy chewing a cigar on the front platform? Cozy up to him real good. He can help us. He knows where half the political skeletons in town are buried."

"Promise 'em what you think they'd like to have, Jerry. After we win the election we can always think up reasons why we can't deliver."

"Tell your wife to hide that fur stole. We're going through a poor district."

"It looks like this is a real intellectual audience. It doesn't make any difference what you advocate — just so you keep it on an international level, and make it sound real highbrow. If you know any big words, go ahead and use them."

"So that's our candidate! Well, all I can say is that if his brains match his ears, we've got a winner for sure."

Women Voters in Chile

By John Chamberlain

When the Christian Democrat Eduardo Frei defeated Salvador Allende, the Communist-backed Socialist, for the Presidency of Chile, there were great sighs of relief all over the western hemisphere. With 1,418,000 votes to Allende's 982,000, Frei apparently has a mandate to carry through a social program that combines some measures of state welfare with old-fashioned liberal economic reformism designed to make Chilean business less monopolistic and to enable peasants to acquire land.

But if Frei's election base is wide, it may not be effective. The reason for this inheres in the fact that it was the Chilean women who put him over in the September election with a huge last-minute anti-Communist crusade. (Where Frei polled 56 per cent of the total vote, he received 63 per cent of the women's vote. The men went 50 per cent for Frei, 45 for Allende, and five for the Radical Party candidate, Julio Duran.)

The women's support of Frei is a tribute to their political and moral intelligence, but the sobering element in the situation is that women in Chile play no continuing role in politics once election day is over. And without the women, Frei is vulnerable to a masculine coalition that is not overwhelmingly for any one of the conservatives or old-fashioned liberals might want.

The extreme Leftists in Chile are already talking of pinning Frei to the wall. Allende's defeated coalition was a curious one in that it reflected all the splits in world Marxism. For eight months prior to the election, there was a bitter battle between the Khrushchevite and the Maoist-Castroite factions in Allende's entourage. Luis Corvalan, the General Secretary of the orthodox Chilean Communist Party, kept plugging the view that Communism could come to power in Chile by peaceful election. But Clodomiro Almeyda, a believer in Mao Tse-tung's (and Castro's) line that it takes intransigence to create a socialist society, fought Corvalan. Since Allende lost the election, Almeyda's followers are now in a position to say that they were right. The so-called "soft-liners" in the Allende coalition have lost caste.

What this could mean in Chile is a development of the guerrilla-type violence that is being preached throughout Latin America by Castro's chief of paramilitary warfare, Major Ernesto "Che" Guevara. The very threat of this could force

Frei to move more to the Left than he intends, particularly in foreign policy.

The idea would be to appease Fidel Castro in return for a withdrawal or damping down of the guerrilla threat.

Fearing that a victorious Frei would never break with Castro's Cuba on his own, the outgoing Chilean President Jorge Alessandri withdrew recognition of the Havana government just before the September election. This alignment of Chile with all the Organization of American States save Mexico forced Frei to say that he would support what Alessandri had done. But he is already weaseling a bit on his promise. At a news conference he said he hoped there would be "more favorable conditions" for a peaceful settlement of the Cuban problem by the Organization of American States after the November presidential election, in the United States. His advisers have urged him to take the initiative in the OAS to restore general Latin American diplomatic relations with Cuba.

Frei's own Christian Democratic Party is far more socialist than the Christian Democrats of Europe. Moreover, the party is not particularly pro-North American. With the U. S. pledged to help Chile out now that Allende's Socialist-Communist coalition has been defeated, there will probably be no overt anti-Yankee moves. But there could be subtle attempts to undermine a pro-Western foreign policy, particularly in relation to Cuba.

Since the women are the real bulwark of conservatism in Chile, it is too bad that they cling to the tradition of letting their menfolk take care of politics between elections. The women are needed to prevent Castroite blackmail of Frei, and to help keep needed reforms of the Chilean economy and social system from taking on too much of a collectivist tinge.

Campaigner Bolton Is Conquering Pressures of Time and Distance

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Republican Oliver P. Bolton, like other candidates for statewide office, lives with the pressures of time and distance.

Bolton seeks to become Ohio's congressman-at-large. He already is in congress, representing the 11th District in the northeast corner of the state—Ashland, Trumbull, Portage, Geauga and Lake counties.

His decision to run for the congress-at-large post, he says, was reached before congressional redistricting became imminent. It stems in part from a desire to draw wide attention to issues about which he feels strongly, in part from a desire to help his party and in part from just plain curiosity about a statewide race, Bolton says.

In that last category, the 47-year-old Mentor attorney says he has learned that the difference between campaigning in a five-county district and in all of Ohio's 88 counties is "tremendous."

Eaton Boy's Death Laid To Polio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State Health Department records showed Tuesday that a death in Dayton which has been attributed to polio is the first caused by the disease in Ohio since 1961.

The victim, 9-year-old Daniel Joe Baker of Eaton in Preble County, died Monday in Dayton's Miami Valley Hospital after an illness of eight days. The death was attributed to polio by hospital physicians and Dr. Giles Wolverson, Darke-Preble County health commissioner.

State records show the youngster's case was only the third in the state this year. Both previous victims were male infants less than a year old.

Wolverson said relatives told him the boy had received three polio inoculations and one booster shot, but that he could not confirm by county records that he had any immunization.

In 1961, Ohio had four deaths among 42 cases reported to the state Health Department. In 1962 there were no deaths among 18 cases and last year six cases with no fatalities were reported.

"Time is of such terrible importance," he says. "You're squeezed to death."

Among the drawbacks, as he sees them, are lack of time to get off the thank you notes which he likes to compose, and less time to talk with people in smaller groups.

Campaign aides say it's sometimes necessary to give Bolton "A little tug on the coat-tail" to get him away from a group where he's enjoying the conversation and on to his next scheduled appearance.

"We get there by car, commercial airliner, chartered plane or on foot," Bolton says with a smile.

Does this campaign pace rise any concern about Bolton's health, in view of his heart attack in the mid-1950s?

No, agrees Bolton, who even complains he isn't getting enough exercise. That attack back in the '50s was the result of overwork, he says, and he's learned to pace himself.

Aides agree, contending he's one of history's great catnappers, able to recharge his mental and physical batteries with quick snoozes while traveling between appearances.

Bolton says he learned the art from handler Glenn Miller whom he met during his undergraduate days at Harvard.

From Harvard, Bolton went on to Western Reserve Law School in Cleveland, enlisted as a private in the Ohio National Guard, and served in the Pacific in World War II, emerging as a major.

He resumed his law studies, graduated with honors, and was in private practice in Cleveland until 1952, when he was elected to the 83rd Congress Congress, but did not run again in 1956 after his heart attack.

Recovered, he remained active in Republican affairs and served as state commerce director in 1957. During this period, he also resumed his newspaper publishing business as owner of two small dailies and a weekly, sold in 1963.

He ran again for Congress in 1962, successfully regaining his 11th District seat. With Rep. Frances P. Bolton of the 22nd District (Cleveland), he is part of the only mother-son team in Congress. Mrs. Bolton first was elected in 1940 to succeed her late husband, who served the district for five terms.

In his campaign for Congress-at-large, Bolton sees "big government" as a major issue.

"Unfortunately," he says, "there is a growing tendency in our national life to shift local responsibilities to big government, farther and farther removed from the individual.

"Usually, the reasons given inability of local and state government to provide the money needed to meet the problem.

To counteract this tendency and still make it possible for state and local governments to meet the demands they face, I have urged the return to the states of a percentage of the individual income tax collected from the citizens of that state."

Bolton says he has no specific formula in mind and that this is just a starting point from which something might be worked out after a great deal of research.

The broad scope of international affairs also seems to interest voters, Bolton says, although the degree seems to be in relation to the day's headlines.

"I'm not an expert on international affairs," he says, adding that he feels he can play an effective role by raising questions ("which we check, double-check and triple-check first") about the nation's foreign policy.

Of his relationship with Sen. Barry M. Goldwater, the GOP presidential candidate, Bolton says it's pretty much like any campaign — "In certain areas where my identity is not separated from the national candidates, it could hurt me; in other areas if I am not identified with him, it could hurt me."

And, he says, "I'd prefer to stand or fall on my own record, of course. In any case, I'm a Republican."

Bolton generally avoids mention of his opponent, Robert E.

Sweeney, but they share one thing: Families campaigning for them. Bolton's wife "Adie" (Adelaide D.); daughter Barbara, 20, and son Charles 22 are working on this campaign. Another son Bill, 15, is in school.

AFTER-MOTHERHOOD FIGURE

Q. Before I married I wore a size 38 bra. Now, after two children, I wear a size 32. Would hormone cream help restore my figure?

A. The glands, ducts and supporting tissue of the breasts enlarge during pregnancy and lactation. If the mother does not nurse or when nursing ceases, involution of the breasts takes place. They usually do not regain their original firmness or appearance, but tend to become less firm and more pendulous. They may simply appear smaller or actually decrease in size. To be very frank, hormone creams . . . and similar breast "restoratives" . . . are worthless and some may even do harm.

MENOPAUSE

Q. What is the youngest age at which the menopause can occur?

A. The average age at which the menopause occurs is about 47 years. It may normally occur much earlier or several years later. The term "menopause" is defined as the physiologic (natural) cessation of menstruation. If it occurs within the usual age period, it is assumed to be the normal process. However, when menstruation ceases in a younger woman, it is well to obtain a thorough examination. This should be done simply as a precautionary measure.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

National Customs!

DEAR ABBY: I saw the bride's shoe passed at a wedding reception after the groom's best man knocked the bride over, sat on her, took her wedding veil off and put it on the groom's head backwards. I had no idea what was going on, and neither did the bride, but she looked very frightened. Later we learned it was an old German custom. This was at our daughter's wedding. We told her we didn't want anything passed around to take up a collection, but her husband took over and did things his way. We had nothing to do with what went on at the wedding. We just paid for it.

BRIDE'S MOTHER

DEAR ABBY: Passing the bride's shoe is an old Polish custom. There are other customs, too. My father, age 75, tells me that years ago a piece of the bride's china was set up against the wall and the guests threw silver dollars at it, trying to break it. (The silver dollars went to the bride and groom.) Each nationality has its own

New Officers Are Named By Pickaway Garden Club

Mrs. Willison Leist was welcomed as a new member when the Pickaway County Garden Club met last night at the Pickaway Arms, E. Mound St.

Mrs. Ned Harden conducted the meeting. Mrs. James Stallings, secretary, reported there are presently 71 members in the club.

Corsages were presented to the following newly elected officers: Mrs. Robert McCoy, president; Mrs. Alden Bray, first vice president; Mrs. E. L. Montgomery, second vice president; Mrs. James Stallings, recording secretary; Mrs. Louise Crawford, corresponding secretary; Mrs. David Craven, historian; Mr. H. Miller Dunkel and Mrs. Leslie May, members at large.

George Hamrick was introduced and showed slides on land reclamation. He suggested that a house should have grace and charm and be defined three ways, public utility and private. Trees should be the basic frame work. He gave instructions of what to plant suitable for various houses and said foundation planting around doorways should be slow growing or those that could be pruned.

For an epicurean first course, serve marinated artichoke hearts (they come prepared in jars) with sliced smoked salmon. Have a pepper grinder, a cruet of olive oil and wedges of lemon on hand.

Mr. Hamrick also showed slides on the bugs and insects that infest gardens. He named many of them and also told what to use to control or kill them.

Yearly programs were distributed and it was announced horticulture would be the topic for the year. Ned Harden made a gavel from a piece of wood from the historical Logan Elm which was presented to the club.

Mrs. G. Guy Campbell distributed work sheets to the members for the flower show at the Pumpkin Show. She also announced, due to the freeze exhibitors for the show in the arrangement classes would be allowed to use greenhouse flowers.

It was announced that the Columbus Council Christmas Show will be held Dec. 10-11 in the gallery of Fine Arts. An invitation was read to attend the Christmas Show Nov. 17 at the Gallery of Fine Arts. Tickets are available from the club.

Refreshments were served from a table centered with an arrangement in a pumpkin. Hostesses were Mrs. Burl Wiggins, Mrs. James Moffitt, Mrs. J. O. Eagleson, Miss Mary Heffner, Miss Ruth Montellus, Mrs. Edwin Richardson and Mrs. George Swepson.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — A gentlemanly debate on a high plane is the ideal but not the real in a presidential campaign, as this one and some others show.

Tuesday Sen. Barry Goldwater, while being charged with racism in this campaign by 728 fellow-Episcopalians, was criticizing President Johnson's religious practices.

He said Johnson's visiting "church after church and city after city" on Sundays was a "political travesty of the Lord's day."

This is the latest in a hardly

Use of Funds Debated by 2 Agencies

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressional agency has accused the federal government of spending $26 million of depressed area money to create jobs in communities "no longer burdened by substantial and persistent unemployment."

In reply, the Area Redevelopment Administration said that it should not be expected to turn federal aid on and off as communities dip in and out of the status of a depressed area.

The criticism was made by the General Accounting Office, which checks federal spending for Congress.

The GAO attributed what it termed a needless expenditure of $26 million to the ARA policy of waiting seven months to 13 months before deciding to end assistance under the Public Works Acceleration Act of 1962.

Under that law, Congress authorized a $900-million program to build projects quickly in areas hit by unemployment. The aim was to increase employment in a hurry.

The GAO cited the Detroit area as one that received assistance under this program after the area no longer needed it.

The state of Nebraska derives its name from an Ojibwa Indian word, Ne-brath-ka, meaning "shallow water" and referring to the Platte River.

gentle list of criticisms Goldwater has dumped on Johnson. The President has made mostly indirect cracks at his rival.

American voters may have forgotten it, because of all that has happened since then, but they watched pretty much the same thing in the 1960 race between Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy.

Some of the very words those two men used against each other four years ago have popped up again.

Nixon said Kennedy was a "deadly risk" and an "immature, rash, impulsive man" making dangerous statements. And he compared Kennedy's promises to a "carnival confidence man selling... quack medicine to an unsuspecting public."

Kennedy wasn't any kinder to Nixon.

He suggested "someone had better cut the cards" before Nixon dealt. And he pictured Nixon as a baleful kind of individual whose political "career has often seemed to show charity toward none and malice toward all."

Nixon, to Kennedy, was the "trigger-happy" leader of a "wrecking crew."

Democrats this year, and some Republicans before the campaign began, applied "impulsive" and "trigger-happy" to Goldwater who all through this campaign has been insisting he is neither and this week he told NBC:

"I think the repetition of the outright lie that I am trigger-happy has hurt me more than anything. That's been the most damaging thing I've run into."

Johnson himself hasn't put those tags on Goldwater but when he urged voters to reject the voice of a "raving, ranting demagogue," there was no doubt whom he had in mind.

Even after Goldwater accused the Johnson administration of being "soft on communism," the President refused to be riled into firing back directly. Instead, again without mentioning Goldwater's name, he said:

"I see... the new and frightening voice of the Republican party is merely trying out this charge at the moment to see if it works."

And this week when Johnson referred to a "plucked banty rooster" it was interpreted as meaning Goldwater.

Before the campaign even began, Goldwater called Johnson a "phony" and "faker."

Goldwater has used as one of his main themes the charge that scandal hovers over the White House. He said Johnson knows only one thing: "How to acquire fortune and power."

He said the Johnson administration had changed the alleged New Deal formula of spend and spend to "lie and lie."

The 1956 race between President Eisenhower and Adlai Stevenson was far more subdued and, by comparison, almost in the realm of gallantry. By that time Stevenson had abandoned the wit which so much annoyed Eisenhower in 1952.

But he did try some ridicule, such as remarking he was "willing to believe" Eisenhower didn't "understand what he was saying."

Nicholas PTA Slates Meet

The initial meeting of the Nicholas Drive Parent Teacher Association will be held 7:30 p. m. tomorrow at the school. It will be an open house.

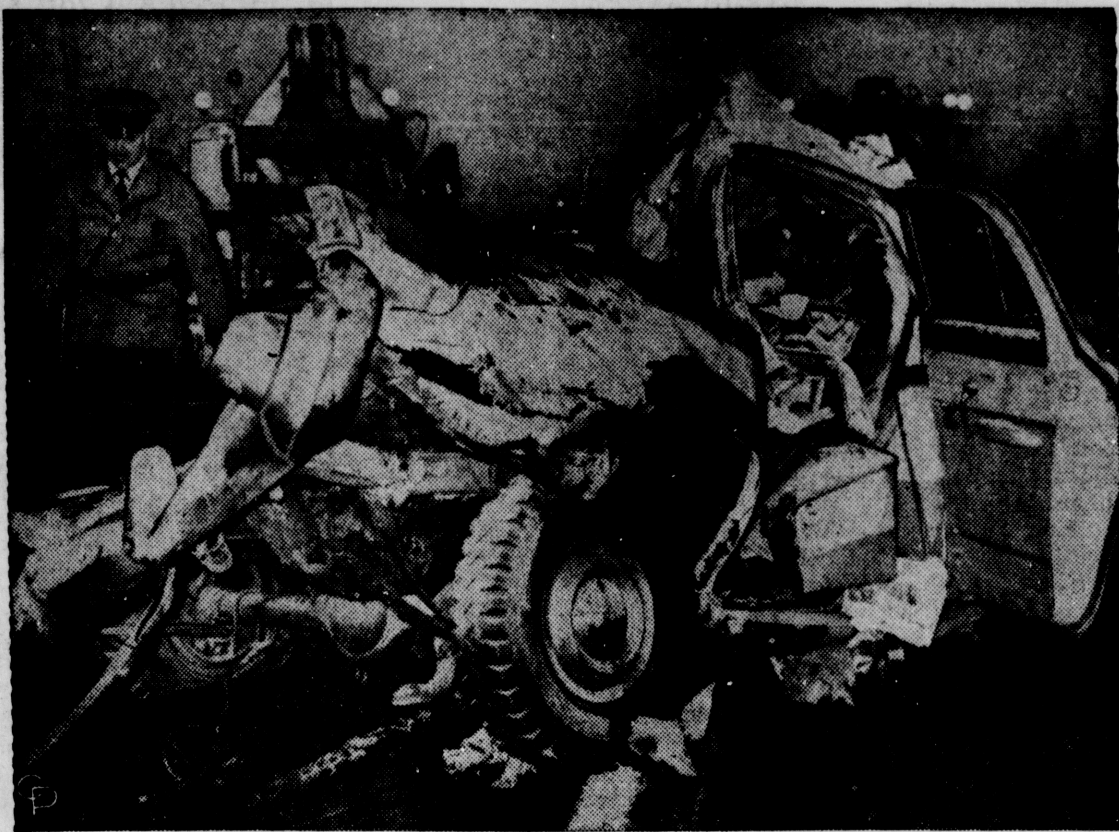

The years activities and educational programs will be discussed with the teachers. All parents of Nicholas Drive Elementary School students are urged to attend.

The evening will be completed with a reception for the teachers.

Officers of the organization are:

Mrs. Ralph Dunkel, president; Mrs. Dale DeLong, vice president and room mother; Mrs. William Neal, secretary; Mrs. Larry Graham, treasurer; Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Whitfield, publicity; Mr. and Mrs. Ben Brian and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Schiewetz, ways and means; Mrs. Gobel Bronham and Mrs. Otto Guenther, membership; Mrs. Carl Heffelfinger, program; Pumpkin Show, Mrs. Willard McConaughy; Mrs. Forest Hoffman, hospitality; Mrs. Merle Turner, refreshments.

TURNPIKE TRAGEDY—Four persons were killed and several others injured in a series of chain-reaction truck and auto collisions in a heavy, early-morning fog on the New Jersey Turnpike near the Lincoln Tunnel. Wreckage of one of the 14 autos and trucks strewn over the northbound lane is shown.

Draft Qualifying Program Delayed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Start of an experimental program designed to help some 60,000 young men qualify for the draft has been delayed, the Army said.

Originally scheduled to begin at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., in January, the program had a two-fold purpose: To reduce reliance on the draft by expanding the pool of qualified volunteers and to bring young men whose mental and physical capabilities were below draft standards to the point where they were qualified.

The special training was to be limited to volunteers and to those whose deficiencies could be corrected in six to 12 months.

Last Visit with Cantor Is Recalled by Reporter

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A last visit with Eddie Cantor—Cantor in his final years was far from the vital, kinetic figure who had danced across the Ziegfeld stage and the screens of movie houses. His speech had grown slow and heavy-tongued, evidence of the heart attacks that had withdrawn him from the entertainment scene. When he moved, it was with a deliberateness of a man who knew he was existing on borrowed time.

PTA News

PICKAWAY TWP
The Pickaway Twp. Parent Teacher Organization met Thursday at the school. Devotions were given by students of the first grade. They were Doug Hildenbrand and Keith Dum. The group repeated the Lord's Prayer in unison. Grade one was the winner of the room call with 22 parents present. The results of the membership drive were announced. The team under the leadership of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Kurtz, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Steele and Mr. and Mrs. Ira Barr were the winners with 201 members. The team under the leadership of Mr. and Mrs. William Harrington, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Elser and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Strawser will be in charge of the November program and refreshments. They gained 192 members. A Halloween carnival will be held 7:30 p. m. Oct. 31 in the Pickaway gymnasium. The public is invited. Alfred Gabriel, principal, stated the yearly magazine drive was successful. Patty Moats showed slides taken during her tour of the West Indies. Refreshments were served by the first grade mothers. Mrs. Ronald List is chairman of the refreshment committee. Members are Mrs. Raymond Reichelderfer, Mrs. David Dumm, Mrs. William Hildenbrand and Mrs. Roy Palmer.

liked to recall, when he was first flashing across the horizon of the entertainment world. Cantor's doctor had prescribed a shot of whisky each day to assuage his ailments, and the comedian still didn't enjoy taking it. "I never enjoyed drinking," he reflected, "and I think I know why. My first roommate in the 'Ziegfeld Follies' was W. C. Fields. He never drank before the show — he couldn't and do his juggling. But when the show was over, he got plastered."

"I saw him three days before he died, and he said to me, 'I sometimes wonder what I could have been if I hadn't been on the stuff.'"

Cantor felt a mellowness toward Fields, as he did toward all his old fellow performers: Fanny Brice, Will Rogers, Bert Williams, Marilyn Miller, etc. But for Fields he had a special affection. "He helped educate me," Cantor said. "Fields always carried books with him, and every day he would read the New York Times and several other newspapers. Each night he would get out the dictionary and pick out three words that he made me learn and use in sentences. By the end of two years with the Follies, I had amassed a pretty good vocabulary."

Cantor refused to let his heart disability end his good works. He was using all his efforts to line up a big television spectacular to raise money for Dr. Jonas Salk's Research Foundation.

"I can no longer raise money retail; I have to go after it wholesale," said Cantor, who had collected millions of dollars for the March of Dimes and other causes.

He reminisced about the great names he had worked with. He spoke affectionately of Samuel Goldwyn, who had brought him to Hollywood for a series of film extravaganzas. One was "whoop-pee," in which Cantor had starred on Broadway for Flo Ziegfeld.

The stage producer wanted his star to stay in the show and make the movie version on Long Island during the daytime. Goldwyn argued that the film could be made cheaper in Hollywood, "because I can get the Indians right off the reservoir" (sic).

SPY TRIAL—John William Butenko, 38, former defense plant electronics engineer, walks to the federal building in Newark, N. J., for a session of his trial on spy conspiracy charges.

Mac's Air Chief Dies

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Retired Lt. Gen. Ennis C. Whitehead, 69, who commanded the Pacific air force under Gen. Douglas MacArthur during World War II, died Monday.

An old Andalusian proverb says, "Matrimony and the bath must be entered with a rush, because if you do it slowly you will get cold feet and not enter at all."

Politicians Flocking To Woo Ohioans

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Both presidential candidates and two men associated with the nation's highest office in the past will be wooing Ohio's 26 electoral votes in the next four days.

The first to arrive is former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Republican presidential candidate in 1960. He appeared at a GOP breakfast this morning in Toledo, then went on to Sandusky for a luncheon.

At 7:30 p. m. (EST), Nixon will speak in Lakewood's Civic Auditorium. The talk will be carried by 11 television and 6 radio stations, paid for by the Ohio GOP State Central and Executive Committees.

Thursday, former President Dwight D. Eisenhower flies into Port Columbus (11:45 a. m. EST) from his Gettysburg, Pa., farm. He will speak at noon in support of GOP candidate Barry M. Goldwater from COLUM Veterans Memorial building, then return to Pennsylvania.

Friday, President Lyndon B. Johnson is to fly into Cincinnati (4:40 p. m. EST), speak at the airport, then go by motorcade to the downtown Fountain Square to speak again. From there, he flies to Dayton for an 8 p. m. talk, Democratic State Headquarters said.

Saturday, Sen. Goldwater flies into Mansfield (8:50 a. m. EST), goes on to Canton and Akron, and speaks in Youngstown in the evening (7 p. m. EST).

Republicans Woo Grassroots in Dixie

EDITOR'S NOTE — Whatever opinion polls may indicate, it's the number of voters brought to the polling booths by each party on election day that tells the crucial story. Bringing out the voters is the job of precinct workers. How energetic and enthusiastic are they in this campaign, when reported voter apathy may put an extra premium on their efforts? Here are the results of an AP cross-country survey, first of two articles.

By LARRY OSIUS
WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans are working at the grassroots level in the South as never before, an Associated Press survey shows.

But the same survey shows mixed effort by GOP workers elsewhere — warm support for the national ticket in some places, cool in others. Democrats have been slow in reacting to the Republican challenge in the South. Elsewhere they are concentrating on registering friendly voters and, in some areas, trying to battle overconfidence.

These views stemmed from interviews with party leaders and precinct workers in more than 100 counties in the South, the Arizona precinct worker who mused, "It's a really funny year."

It's a year in which Republicans appear to have far and away the most active precinct organization in Georgia, a state which has never deserted the Democratic party. It's a year in which a GOP precinct worker in always Republican Vermont says he doesn't know of a single town committee in his county working for the presidential nominee, Sen. Barry Goldwater. And it's a year in which precinct activity in most states is reported at its highest level ever by one or both parties — against a background of reported voter apathy in some states.

Leaders in both parties say precinct activity, the efforts of grassroots party workers, is what spells victory or defeat in an election. They add this is especially true if the reports of voter apathy are translated into a light turnout on election day.

The tactics of precinct work are much the same regardless of party or state. Identify the voter. Get him registered. Work on the undecideds. And, come election day, get your man's supporters to the polls.

To find out how these efforts are going, Associated Press newsmen talked with scores of state, county and precinct leaders of both parties in more than 40 states.

The consensus: —In the South, particularly in the big cities, Republicans are organized as never before down to the grassroots level. Democrats, long accustomed to closing shop after their spring primaries, are slow in reacting.

—Elsewhere across the country, Republican activity is closely tied to feelings about Goldwater. Party leaders in some areas report a dedicated zeal. In other areas leaders frankly admit they have lost party workers and are downplaying the nominee.

—Democrats for the most part, are concentrating on registering voters and taking advantage of their edge in registrations. But some openly express fears of overconfidence among their troops.

In historical terms, the Republican party's increased activity in the South may be the most important. For years the GOP structure was more name than fact. Now thousands of precinct workers are beating the bushes, carrying the gospel of a two-party system.

Even Democrats say it's so. An Arkansas Republican estimates 5,000 volunteers in the field working for Goldwater. Another group, working for GOP gubernatorial candidate

Eisenhower Is Given Advance Ohio Welcome

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, scheduled to speak at a Republican rally in downtown Columbus at noon Thursday has been extended an advance welcome by Gov. James A. Rhodes.

Rhodes wired Eisenhower Tuesday, welcoming him to Ohio and thanking him for "helping us fight for victory both nationally and in Ohio."

Winthrop Rockefeller, is reported to be even farther ahead in organization.

The GOP, always strong in the eastern third of Tennessee, has been lining up potential voters in Memphis and Nashville for months. Willard Yarborough, a Democratic candidate for Congress in the normally Republican Knoxville area, said "the Goldwater people are working their heads off."

In some parts of the South, Democratic organizations rusty with disuse are slowly grinding into action. Florida Democrats say the party is working harder there for Johnson than it did for the late President John F. Kennedy in 1960.

In Georgia, which never has gone Republican, the GOP activity has spurred Democrats to form committees in all 159 counties — many for the first time.

But Ed Kelly, managing editor of the Thomasville Times-Enterprise, says of the GOP drive: "It's a militant campaign. The Democrats have nothing that will touch it."

In Alabama, where President Johnson isn't even on the ballot, there is little to counter the Republican thrust. The GOP there is concentrating on getting lesser candidates elected.

Elsewhere around the nation the picture is mixed. Democrats claim, and some techniques

GOP leaders concede — particularly in New England and the northeastern states — that there has been some defection or footdragging by GOP workers not enthusiastic over Goldwater.

A Kansas City Republican ward leader reports that generally "enthusiasm is not at the same high level as in 1960" and predicts a third of the Republicans in his ward will vote Democratic.

In the normally Republican Negro wards of Harrisburg, Pa., GOP workers reportedly aren't even talking about Goldwater.

And Democrats in several states, including California and New Jersey, claim that Republicans are pouring in to work for Johnson.

But there's another side of the coin. Democrats in Washington State, for instance, say Goldwater backers have organized the state "to a gnat's eye," doing a far better job at the precinct level than the GOP has done in years.

Republicans in several states claim they are getting a lot of help from dissident Democrats, but few Democrats report any lack of enthusiasm by their precinct workers for the Johnson ticket.

Why Pay Twice? You already pay taxes to support a generous federal-state medical program for those over 65 who need it. Why pay again for a plan that isn't needed?

Surprised? Chances are you never heard of Ohio's Aid for the Aged regular Health Care Program and special Health Care Program. We call it Health Opportunity Program for the Elderly.

These programs enable individual states, with federal assistance, to guarantee every elderly person who needs it the health care he or she requires. Thousands of people every day are being helped by their broad benefits.

Private enterprise, physicians, voluntary and private health insurance all have combined to enable our senior citizens to protect themselves against costs of illness. Three out of five of this age group already have provided themselves with this protection.

TO HELP THOSE WHO NEED HELP, sound federal-state health care plans already exist. Why add another tax?

Yet the supporters of the proposed Medicare Tax would have you believe that its passage is urgent . . . that persons over 65 are deprived of needed medical care because they can't pay for it.

So why pay twice? Find out about the health program you're already supporting. For information in your area, ask your doctor or consult your local medical society.

Appeal Fails To Help Man In Cincy Jail

CINCINNATI (AP) — James Barr Roberts, 55, is still sitting in jail on a contempt of court citation, stemming from his divorce trial more than two years ago.

The 1st District Court of Appeals Tuesday upheld the citation issued by Judge Paul J. George of Domestic Relations Court. Roberts has been in Hamilton County Jail since Aug. 13, 1962.

The appeals court said Roberts did not give an adequate answer when he testified at his divorce trial that he did not know where an estimated $30,000 of his assets were.

The court, consisting of three judges, said Roberts "has not taken advantage of the opportunities and even urgings to purge himself" of the contempt. The $30,000 reportedly came from the sale of securities during hearings on the divorce suit filed by Mrs. Alice Denton Roberts, who was granted a divorce Aug. 24, 1962. Roberts has said the money was in a bank in the west, but that he has forgotten the name of the city.

Ex-Governor Is Indicted in Bribe Case

BOSTON (AP) — A special grand jury has indicted former Democratic Gov. Foster Furcolo on a charge of conspiring to arrange a bribe to be paid to the Governor's Council. Indicted for conspiracy with Furcolo were three governor's councilors, all Democrats. The three councilors were Ernest C. Stasiun of Fairhaven, Raymond F. Sullivan of Springfield, and Joseph R. Crimmins of Winchester. The former councilor, also a Democrat, is Michael J. Favulli of Worcester. The indictment charged the five men with conspiring to arrange a bribe to the governor's Council to gain approval of the reappointment of Anthony N. Dinatale as state commissioner of public works.

said the alleged offense occurred within the past six years.

Dinatale was indicted last Wednesday by the same grand jury on charges of larceny, conspiracy and bribery while he was public works commissioner.

Here Are ABCs on Situation in Viet Nam

Editor's Note — Viet Nam's future and what the United States can do about it have become an issue in the United States and a problem affecting U.S. relations with allies. Underlying elements of the situation can be lost in day-to-day dispatches. Here is an effort to clarify basic questions. Answers are based on the best available information, gathered by Malcolm W. Browne, chief AP correspondent in Saigon, and William L. Ryan, AP special correspondent. Another installment will appear Thursday.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Q. How did the Viet Nam situation come about?

A. The Indochina states — Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia — were a French colony. When the wartime Japanese occupation ended, Communist Ho Chi Minh proclaimed a republic in 1945. Later he mounted a guerrilla war, with Soviet and Chinese aid, against France.

When the French jungle fortress of Dien Bin Phu fell in the north, it was the end for France.

A Geneva conference partitioned Viet Nam at the 17th Parallel into Communist North and non-Communist South Laos, and Cambodia also became independent.

A referendum in South Viet Nam deposed Emperor Bao Dai. Ngo Dinh Diem became chief of state. Later he proclaimed a republic with himself as president.

Q. Where did the Communist guerrillas come from?

A. Many stayed in the South after partition. Many went South with a flood of refugees. Communists were strong in rural areas as long as 10 years ago.

Q. What kind of war is it today?

A. Nightmarish, with no front, no rear against an elusive enemy difficult to identify. The Viet Cong hit and hide, raid and ambush, infiltrate and terrorize, propagandize and cajole peasants, constantly recruit manpower. The Viet Cong fights in jungles, marshes, rice paddies, villages. It is a political as well as military struggle, a contest for popular support.

Q. How did the United States get involved?

A. The fall of the French made South Viet Nam a dangerous vacuum in U.S. eyes. An American program of advising South Viet Nam, though on a small scale, began quickly with the object of keeping Southeast Asia out of Communist hands.

Q. What administration started this?

A. In 1954 President Dwight D. Eisenhower sent Ngo Dinh Diem a letter pledging U.S. efforts to help stabilize his government as a "viable state capable of resisting attempted subversion or aggression through military means." Diem visited the United States in 1957 and Eisenhower pledged continued aid against the Communists.

Q. Was the policy continued in the Kennedy and Johnson administrations?

A. Yes. But in 1961 the situation changed. Under North Viet Nam sponsorship, a "National Liberation Front of South Viet Nam" stepped up pressure on the Saigon government. U.S. aid personnel had been in modest numbers until then.

Q. What is the Viet Cong?

A. It's the name the South gives to the guerrillas, implying derision. Reliable estimates place its main fighting force at 34,000, supported by 80,000 armed regional guerrillas who fight at times and also serve as labor or support forces.

Q. How much territory does the Viet Cong control?

A. It almost wholly controls the rich, food-producing Ca Mau Peninsula in the south, claims complete control of 77 of South Viet Nam's 237 administrative districts.

In other areas, by night, the Saigon government controls little. In the 160 districts where the Viet Cong does not claim full control, about 320 Red agitation-propaganda teams are working constantly.

Q. Why does the Viet Cong fight?

A. The Communist propaganda is effective, picturing the enemy as foreigners and puppets of foreigners. When that fails, there are such methods as coercion and terror. The ordinary Viet Cong irregular is concerned with his crops, works with guerrillas only when a local leader orders or when government forces raid his village.

Q. How about government counterpropaganda?

A. It is weak. Opposing the 320 Communist propaganda teams are only 20 government information units. Many of these people do not know how to live with rural people and even resist doing so. A team leader gets on more pay than a competent housemaid in Saigon.

Q. What about Viet Cong losses? Have they been heavy?

A. Yes. Estimates run to more than 10,000 casualties in the last six months. But over-all Viet Cong strength is reported by U.S. intelligence to have grown by 7,000 since May, meaning 17,000 must have been recruited.

Infiltration continues from the Red North. Viet Cong firepower grows steadily. Some materiel is captured from government forces, some of it is Communist bloc equipment.

Q. Isn't the government side far better armed and equipped?

A. Yes. The Viet Cong do not

Maryland Fish Tasters 'Audition' New Recipes

By JAMES N. MILLER
Central Press Association
Correspondent

COLLEGE PARK, Md.—Ever hear of shrimp pizza or salmon broccoli pie?

Maybe not, but soon you and your family may be enjoying them. Four women at the University of Maryland here are working on these and a lot of other new and odd-sounding seafood dishes for your table.

Dr. Charles Lee, a Maryland chemical engineer, taste-tests a plateful of haddock fillets done to a crisp.

Already they have developed dozens of fish combinations and cooking methods, which have been thoroughly tested in the national school lunch program sponsored by the United States Department of Agriculture. Many show great promise for use as appetizing main lunch and dinner dishes by the armed forces.

The quartet of home economists on the staff of the United States Fish and Wildlife Service's technological laboratory and test kitchens are Mrs. Rose G. Kerr, the "boss lady"; Mrs. Beverly M. Barton, Mrs. Eleanor L. Geissenhainer and Mrs. Barbara J. Gerson.

Twice a day, laboratory and administrative workers in neighboring buildings at the university double as seafood test tasters. While using the simple test system, they eat a tasty new fish dish, then write their comments on a regular form on which is stated the taster's reactions to such important factors as: method of preparation, brownness, crispness, smell and flavor.

Back of all this is the Fish and Wildlife Service's campaign to encourage all of us to become more fish-conscious because of this fine food's high values at low cost. The government agency, through its Bureau of Commercial Fisheries, part of the Department of the Interior, seeks to prove that seafood can be deliciously prepared in inexpensive dishes for almost every meal.

Mrs. Kerr calls her quartet of home economists the "traveling fish peddlers." Each of the women, including Mrs. Kerr, is on the road about six months a year, journeying anywhere from California to Louisiana.

They give instructions in schools and at food conventions, in Navy galleys, in hospital and prison kitchens, before restaurant associations and women's clubs, and on television and radio.

In an average month, the home economists give demonstrations before some 1,000 school officials and cafeteria managers, working on the theory that if an elementary school child will eat a sardine prepared appetizingly, he may develop a "whale" of an appetite for seafood by college time.

Too many housewives are at sea when trying to prepare fish properly, according to Mrs. Kerr. She explains: "They seem to think the only way to cook fish is to make it soggy with grease and to over cook it until it's black or charcoal!"

Sculpture across Canada
MONTREAL (AP)—Works of art in stone, bronze, wood or concrete may one day link Canada from coast to coast.

A project, to be known as the Way of the Arts has been launched here.

A number of internationally acclaimed artists are given room, board and a salary, on condition that they work in public and leave their creations behind them when the job is finished.

Eleven artists from 13 countries are at present working on great blocks of stone on the slopes of Mt. Royal. Their work may be sent to points across Canada later.

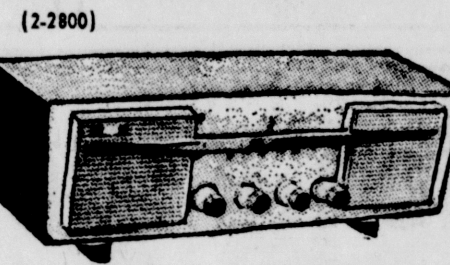

The Quebec Symposium Society hopes other provinces will sponsor similar programs.

More than 17 million trout are caught annually in Colorado streams and lakes.

Shooting Defendant Found Fatally Shot

EATON, Ohio (AP)—Roy Edward Guess, a 55-year-old handyman, was found fatally shot in his home Tuesday, the day he was to be arraigned on a charge of shooting with intent to kill or wound his neighbor. Authorities said Guess had been shot in the chest with a .22 caliber rifle, and the wound apparently was self-inflicted.

Guess was to be arraigned in connection with the July 27 shooting of Frank Kabler, 65, who was wounded critically in an argument. Kabler survived.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1918, President Woodrow Wilson replied to Germany's peace offer, stating that the military supremacy of the United States and the Allies must be safeguarded, that illegal and inhuman practices must cease, and that the German government must be so altered that no one power could of its own choice destroy the peace of the world.

On this date In 1066, William the Conqueror defeated the English in the Battle of Hastings.

In 1927, French aviators completed the first east-west non-stop flight across the South Atlantic.

In 1940, German planes pounded London.

In 1949, 11 Communists were convicted in New York City of criminal conspiracy for advocating and teaching overthrow of the U.S. government and democracy by force.

Ten years ago — A federal grand jury in New York City indicted Corliss Lamont, a wealthy author and educator, and two others, on charges of contempt of Congress for refusing to answer questions by Republican Sen. Joseph McCarthy of Wisconsin.

Five years ago — President Adolfo Lopez Mateos of Mexico told the U.N. General Assembly that the United Nations must stand or fall on solving the problem of disarmament.

One year ago — Algeria charged an invasion by soldiers of Morocco in a dispute over the ill-defined border between the two countries.

Area Grid Teams Prep for Action

VIKING CAPTAINS — Gary Pennington (left) and Dave Reese lead the Teays Valley football team into South Suburban action Friday night. Franklin Heights will invade the Viking athletic field.

The three Pickaway County football teams all see league action this week.

Logan Elm's Braves and Westfall's Mustangs clash in a Scioto Valley Conference tilt that pits the rival county schools on Logan Elm field.

Also scheduled Friday is Teays Valley's initial game in the South Suburban League. The Vikings will host the Franklin Heights Falcons.

The Braves will go into the game without the services of veteran quarterback Jeff Lutz. Lutz, who suffered a cracked bone in his ankle during the game with Teays Valley two weeks ago, may be ready for next week's game, according to Logan Elm Coach Keith Merrin.

QUARTERBACKING duties will probably be shared by a pair of sophomores, Russ Merrin and Tom Smith.

Also on the Braves injury list is fullback Bill Huffman, the team's leading groundgainer. He sustained a sprained ankle and is a doubtful starter.

Merrin reports he also has a couple of backs who may fall victim to low grades.

The Braves have been concentrating on offense during practice this week. Spirit is reported good for the first meeting between the two schools.

Asa Elsea, Mustang coach and his aid Larry Wilson, plan no change in strategy for the upcoming contest.

"We have been throwing about half the time," Elsea commented, "and will probably continue to pass about that much."

THE MUSTANGS have been concentrating on defense with an eye toward improving it.

An additional five candidates came out for the grid team at Westfall last week, bringing the number to 32 candidates.

"This was a big morale booster," Elsea pointed out. "However, the boys will probably not dress for the game."

A capacity crowd is expected at the Braves Athletic field. Westfall, although winning only one game, has a faithful following, as does Logan Elm.

At Teays Valley, Marion Waits reports, "All the news we have about Franklin Heights is bad as far as we are concerned."

They are big, strong and fast, according to the Viking scouting report. The Falcons have lost only one game this year.

FROM end-to-end the line averages better than 200 pounds. The top offensive threats are the quarterback and Hall, a halfback.

A week of rest may have helped the Viking offense. Waits reports his offensive unit has been able to move the ball better this week in practice.

Two Vikings have been lost because of an automobile accident. They are Larry Hall, a halfback, and John Little, a tackle. Both are out of action for an indefinite period.

Otherwise the team is in fair shape physically, Waits said.

'Pell Mell' Is Dayton Grid Star

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—"Give the ball to Mell" is the cry you're likely to hear at a University of Dayton football game.

Mell is Roosevelt Mell, the Flyers' mighty mite halfback who has turned in convincing performances in a losing cause.

Dayton hasn't exactly been a ball of fire losing three of its first four tilts.

But Mell, whose teammates call him "Rosie", has rushed for 410 yards to place him third among the nation's leaders.

The 5-foot-6, 175-pound Mell is a transfer from Harris Junior College in Lisle, Miss. He came out for football and made it big.

A junior majoring in education, Mell isn't even listed in the Dayton football brochure.

"He got here too late to be included on the roster," explains athletic director Tom Frericks.

Mell's bull-like rushes from a halfback spot have netted 410 yards in only 71 carries, a nifty 5.8 average. The Flyers' rushing offense in four games has garnered 878 yards so Mell, dubbed Little Pell Mell by sports writers, has almost half his team's running yardage.

Farmer, Sportsmen Group To Meet

The Pickaway Farmers and Sportsmen's Assn. will hold its regular meeting tomorrow in the 4-H and Grange Building at the Fairgrounds.

A movie will be shown and refreshments will be served, it was announced by Dick E. Redman, secretary.

Jess Neely is in his 25th season as Rice football coach. He's dean of the Southwest Conference coaches.

Charlie Bradshaw, Kentucky '49, is in his third year as Kentucky football coach.

Lansdowne Links Owner Pleased with New Venture

After the initial season of operation, Don Collins, owner of Upper Lansdowne Golf Links, is pleased with his decision to launch the venture.

Although the course has been virtually under construction during the past summer, Collins states that play has been satisfactory. Basic construction was completed a year ago.

The irrigated greens got off to a fine start and proved to be one of the major attractions of the course during the summer.

IOOF Hosts Baseball Team with Dinner

The local IOOF lodge hosted the Little League team it sponsored in the minor division of the little league to a chicken dinner last night.

Each member of the team was presented a billfold by the lodge.

The dry season slowed the start of a good turf on the fairways while untimely down pours washed many small gulleys this spring.

THE COURSE will be open for play throughout the winter months if weather permits. During March, however, Collins said he will close it to members and the public alike.

"We have been told that more damage can be done to both the fairways and the greens during this month than at any other time of the year," the owner-pro explained.

With the greens in good shape, he will concentrate on improving fairways this fall and next spring.

Also slated for construction this fall and winter are the sand traps.

"We owe a debt of gratitude to golfers of Pickaway County and the surrounding areas who have helped make our opening year so successful, Collins said.

"It isn't easy to make the change from farming to operating a golf course. Without the help of a great many people, it could not have been accomplished," the owner continued.

THE COURSE proved to be one of a challenging nature, according to Collins. He reported that only five golfers to date have been able to par it.

Racer Is Clocked At 468.72 Mph.

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah (AP) — Craig Breedlove set a world land speed record Tuesday, whirling his Spirit of America along these western salt flats at an average of 468.72 miles an hour.

The 28-year-old Californian became the third man to break the record in the past two weeks. The one Breedlove broke was set eight days ago by Art Arfons, who averaged 434.02 miles an hour.

OU, Marshall Gridders Hailed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Bob Pruett, a 190-pound end from Marshall who caught the longest touchdown pass in conference history, is the Mid-American Conference Lineman of the Week.

The 6-foot senior from Beckley, W. Va., grabbed two scoring pitches in Marshall's 14-12 victory over Buffalo last Saturday. The record-breaker, thrown by quarterback Howie Miller, covered 85 yards.

Also tabbed for honors today was Ohio University fullback Wash Lyons, a rookie chosen as Back of the Week.

Lyons stormed for 114 yards in 12 carries, including one scamper that covered 51 yards for a touchdown, as the Bobcats clipped Toledo, 21-12.

Yanks Hope for Miracle

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The proud New York Yankees, straining to avert their second straight World Series disaster for the first time in 42 years, were hoping for a near miracle as they faced the front-running St. Louis Cardinals in the do-or-die sixth game today.

Down three games to two — just one away from elimination — Yankee Manager Yogi Berra pinned his hopes on the right arm of 25-year-old Jim Bouton in a return mound engagement with Cardinal veteran southpaw Curt Simmons.

The two hooked up in the third game with Bouton the winner, 2-1, on Mickey Mantle's dramatic ninth-inning home run at Yankee Stadium. The blast came off reliever Barney Schultz' first pitch.

U.S. Collects More Medals

Non-Favorites Star In Olympic Games

TOKYO (AP) — Courageous Billy Mills, a Marine from Coffeyville, Kan., won the 10,000-meter run today in one of the greatest upsets in the history of the Olympic Games, and Ken Sitzberger led a 1-2-3 American sweep of medals in springboard diving.

Mills, a 26-year-old crew-cut Marine lieutenant, was timed in an Olympic record 28:24.4 after pulling away from world record-holder Ron Clarke. It was the first time the United States had ever won at 10,000 meters.

Sitzberger, from River Forest, Ill., was third going into the final round but put on a dazzling display of free diving and won the springboard competition with a total of 159.90 points. It was the United States' 10th straight victory in the event.

Frank Gorman, a naval officer from New York who had led all the way, finished second with 157.63 points and Larry Anderson of Los Alamitos, Calif., was third with 143.77 points.

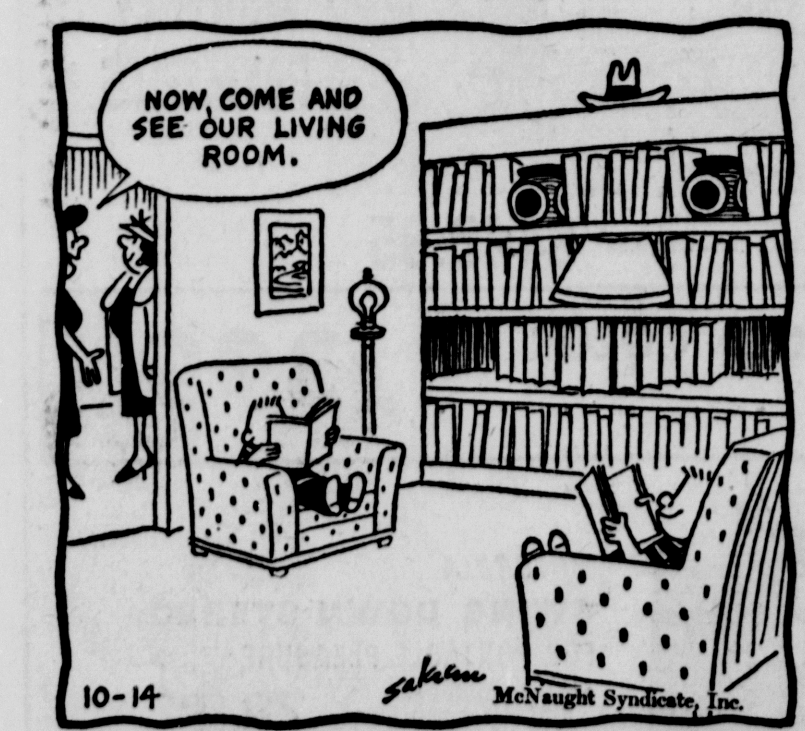

The sweep, plus Mills' triumph, pushed the U.S. harvest of Olympic hardware to 14 medals, four gold, six silver, four bronze.

Mills, considered far out of his class against one of the finest 10,000-meter fields ever assembled, stayed with the leaders all the way, took the lead to stay on the 20th lap of the six-mile-plus test of courage and endurance, then sprinted home, winning by about four yards.

In the vast confusion surrounding the finish, Clarke, the Australian world record-holder, was believed to have finished second, but the official results placed him third behind Tunisia's virtually unknown Mohamed Gammoudi.

Gammoudi was timed in 28:24.8. Clarke exactly one second slower.

Undeclared U.S. Olympic Cagers Hailed

TOKYO (AP) — Henry Iba, one of basketball's sternest task-masters, had some kind words to say about his U.S. Olympic team. But even the rare praise had to be considered a major understatement in view of developments.

The United States won its latest game, against little Uruguay, 83-28 Wednesday night. "Not bad," admitted Iba. "Not bad at all."

He even went further. "I thought they played a real god defensive game and handled the ball very well."

The United States, unbeaten in basketball since the sport was added to the Olympics in 1936, hit 19 of its first 26 shots, flashed out to a whopping 50-13 halftime margin and coasted in from there.

The starting unit didn't see action in the second half.

"I don't believe in seeing how many points we can run up against an opponent," was Iba's explanation. "I'd rather see us run what we're supposed to run out there on the court. By that I mean move the ball and play defense. We will rest our boys whenever we can. There's no use putting in too much work at this time."

The starting unit was composed of Bill Bradley, Princeton; Jerry Shipp, Bartlesville, Okla.; Lucius Jackson, Pan American University; Walt Hazzard, UCLA; and Joe Caldwell, Arizona State.

UofC Cagers Seek Return to Power

CINCINNATI (AP) — The University of Cincinnati, which slipped to a 17-9 record last year after being a basketball power for three years, starts cage practice Thursday with a 14-man squad.

The Bearcats won the NCAA championship in 1961 and 1962 and were runners-up in 1963, losing in overtime to Loyola of Chicago.

UC will be without All America Ron Bonham who was graduated last year along with George Wilson, now a member of the U.S. Olympic basketball team.

Coach Ed Jucker will have seven returning lettermen and four members of last year's freshman squad. There are three seniors and seven juniors.

Northwestern Hopes

MIAMI TO BE SOFT — The Northwestern Wildcats, after successive Big Ten football losses to Illinois and Minnesota, regroup their forces Saturday against Miami of Ohio, Mid-American Conference power.

The Redskins, guided by their brilliant title quarterback, Ernie Kellermann, cannot be taken too lightly. In 1955 they knocked off Northwestern 25-14. The Wildcats beat them last year 37-6.

Kellermann has run and passed for 522 yards as Miami won three games and tied another to remain unbeaten this season.

AP Guesspert Picks Bucks Over Trojans

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

TOKYO (AP) — The emblem of the Olympics is five interlocking rings, representing five continents. That gives any football selector plenty of room in which to run around — in circles.

Last week's average of .661 made the season's record .670. From a slightly Oriental viewpoint, here are the coming weekend's winners:

Texas over Arkansas: If there is one college football team that can jump from the frying pan into the fire, week after week, it is this year's Longhorn aggregation.

Ohio State over Southern California: Coach Woody Hayes of Ohio State doesn't concentrate on non-conference foes but he will want to show the television viewers his new off-tackle play. Tom Barrington is a handy-dandy.

Alabama over Tennessee: The Volunteers have nobody who can equal Joe Namath.

Notre Dame over UCLA: The Irish line suddenly has become respectable.

Michigan over Purdue: The Wolverines have oodles and oodles of talent, including quarterback Bob Timberlake.

Nebraska over Kansas State: The Huskers can run and run.

Kentucky over Louisiana State: The Wildcats, thin in numbers, will be trying to make up for that awful thumping given them by Florida State.

Auburn over Georgia Tech: If Jimmy Sidle and his playmates are going to hit high gear this year, this should be the game.

Syracuse over Penn State: Syracuse didn't issue the same number 44 to halfback Floyd Little that previously had been worn by Jimmy Brown and Ernie Davis just because he passed freshman English.

Navy over California: Wayne Hardin's crew gets back on the right track.

Picking the others in a hurry: EAST: Boston College over Cincinnati, Buffalo over Virginia Military, Harvard over Cornell, Dartmouth over Brown, Quantico Marines over Holy Cross, Rutgers over Pennsylvania, Villanova over Delaware, Princeton over Colgate, Yale over Columbia.

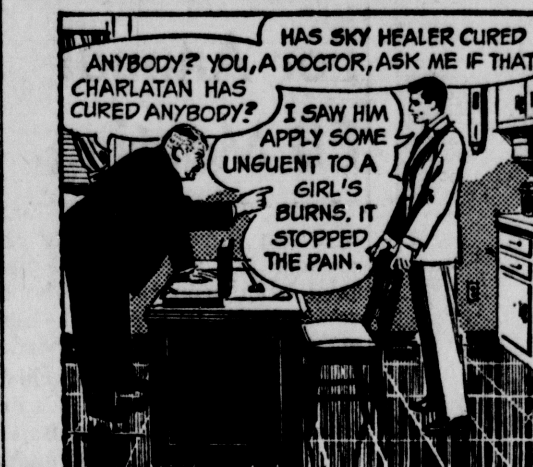

SOUTH: Davidson over Richmond, North Carolina State over Duke, Florida over South Carolina, Furman over Presbyterian, Vanderbilt over George Washington, Florida State over Georgia, Mississippi State over Southern Mississippi, Pittsburgh over Miami, North Carolina over Maryland, Mississippi over Tulane, West Virginia over Virginia Tech, Army over Virginia, Clemson over Wake Forest, William and Mary over The Citadel.

MIDWEST: Michigan State over Indiana, Iowa State over Colorado, Oklahoma over Kansas State, Tulsa over Louisville, Illinois over Minnesota, Northwestern over Miami of Ohio, Wichita over Detroit, Wisconsin over Iowa.

SOUTHWEST: Texas Tech over Baylor, North Texas State over New Mexico State, Rice over Southern Methodist, Texas Christian over Texas A. & M., Memphis State over West Texas State.

FAR WEST: Missouri over Air Force, Brigham Young over Pacific, Utah over Colorado State, Utah State over New Mexico, Oregon over Arizona, Oregon State over Idaho, Washington State over San Jose State, Wyoming over Texas Western.

3 Former Employees Placed on Probation

CINCINNATI (AP) — Three former employees of the Cincinnati Drug Co., Ernest J. Grosser 40, Cincinnati; Raymond Sturgeon Jr., 37, Covington, Ky., and Donald T. Wilson, 48, Latonia Ky., were placed on probation Tuesday for five years.

They were arrested early this year in connection with the operation of a three-year $100,000 merchandise theft ring at the company. They had pleaded guilty to charges of embezzlement and stealing narcotics.

Views on Television — Radio

NEW YORK (AP) — Viewers tuned to CBS for the past couple of nights could get the impression that this is Ed Wynn Week.

That fine actor and comedian who has passed his 78th birthday appeared on Monday night playing the serious role of an 86-year-old inmate of a home for the aged in "Slattery's People."

Tuesday night he was having a fine time committing mayhem on a defenseless comedy sketch in the company of Red Skelton.

Wynn, with his droll face and hesitant manner, was dandy in both appearances but, for this long-time Wynn fan, the Skelton show was the greater treat.

Red, a wonderful clown also, is now in his 14th year as a television star. The way he triumphs over his usually shoddy material is a weekly demonstration of his enormous talents. He and Wynn were great together.

Carol Burnett, who seemed to be fortune's favorite last spring is running into some bad breaks.

Back and neck injuries, originally suffered five years ago and aggravated by a recent taxi accident, will put her in traction in a hospital for an indefinite period starting Monday.

Plans Set For Annual FB Meeting

Loring Leist, Pickaway County Farm Bureau president, announced this week that all plans have been prepared for the organization's 44th Annual Meeting and Dessert Smorgasbord.

The annual event is scheduled Oct. 31 at the Fairgrounds 4-H and Grange Building. Activity will get under way at 7:30 p. m.

One of the key phases of the program will be a detailed discussion of proposed resolutions that have been submitted by Farm Bureau Advisory Councils in the county. Other highlights will be an appearance by John Stackhouse, Ohio Director of Agriculture, and the election of local board directors.

The dessert smorgasbord is something new that has been added. Prizes also will be awarded.

KEY resolutions slated for discussion deal with such areas as reapportionment, meat imports, stream pollution, state income tax, the proposed one-cent sales tax increase, powers of the U.S. Supreme Court and others.

Leist today said, "This has been a banner year for our County Farm Bureau, not because I was president, but because many members showed interest and made it a most successful term."

The president commended John Stevenson, Route 2, for his leadership as membership growth chairman. "Membership in the county Farm Bureau now stands at 611 families, the highest it has been in many years," Leist added.

Farm Bureau spokesmen today said a large gathering is anticipated for this year's session.

Youth Jury Helps Police

HINSDALE, Ill. (AP) — Juvenile delinquents in this suburb of Chicago are learning fast that a jury of fellow teen-agers can be tougher than adult justice.

Nevertheless, every young offender, given the chance, has chosen the Youth Jury for sentencing since its inception in Hinsdale seven months ago.

By doing so, offenders can make restitution without getting a police record.

The punishments meted out by the Youth Jury are designed to include perspiration and contrition. They usually consist of menial but constructive work — such as mowing lawns, scrubbing walls, cleaning streets or working as an orderly in a hospital or sanitarium.

"We think it's really helping. Our acts of vandalism are going down," says police Sgt. John Beukema, Hinsdale youth officer.

Magistrate Richard R. Brown attributes the success of the Youth Jury to the enthusiasm of the youngsters and community cooperation.

"It's basically self-rule. The youngsters seem to be more adept at punishing their own and more adept at accepting punishment from their own," Brown explained.

The jury does not rule on guilt or innocence. It passes sentences in cases presented to it. The sentences themselves can be increased or tempered by Brown.

The Youth Jury was proposed by a Hinsdale high school student, Greg Mertz, 17, who read about a similar system in Jacksonville, Fla. Officials of Hinsdale, a community of 16,000 west of Chicago, agreed to give it a try.

Sgt. Beukema decides which cases should go before the Youth Jury after analyzing the past record of the offender and holding a long interview with his parents.

The offenses involved include vandalism, shoplifting, petty theft and traffic violations.
